To Potential Clients:

Recently, my firm expanded to a new space in our existing building. The project was divided into two segments and Craig Recupero was the project manager for both. Early in our discussions, we were convinced that having an experienced project manager like Craig would help our firm adhere to our budget and deadline.

Craig managed every aspect of our project including design, building, renovation, and furniture selection and effectively collaborated with upper management, the building landlord, and all vendors. He paid great attention to every detail while exhibiting exemplary customer service. Additionally, his expertise allowed for savings and upgrades to our completed project.

I would use Craig in the future and highly recommend his services to anyone contemplating a renovation or relocation project.

Best regards,
