

While working on Traxon's office renovations, Craig Recuperero demonstrated excellent project management skills by his efficiency and diligence in seeing the project through. His high degree of expertise in his field and impeccable attention to detail are second to none. Always "on the ball," Craig's enthusiasm to get the job done makes him a pleasure to work with on projects. He exceeded our expectations and I would recommend Craig to anyone in need of a project manager.

Happy New Year!

Best regards,

Amy Meredith
